Home at last in Milton

For Nancy, moving in to Heathwood Homes' Traditions community in Milton truly was coming home at last. She grew up in this friendly town until a few years ago when she and her husband, Kin, took up residence in Oakville. "As soon as we found out Heathwood Homes was going to build Traditions," says Nancy. "We decided to move back. We were the very first purchasers in this community."

Traditions is Heathwood's collection of townhomes, semi-detached homes and detached homes adjacent to the Niagara Escarpment, within walking distance to downtown Milton. Traditions encompasses a woodlot, park, walking trails, bicycle paths and a village square.

"We are on a fantastic lot with views of the escarpment and a field," says Kin, a family physician in the area. "Our home has a large porch, which is like extended living quarters. We can sit in the front or back to enjoy the outdoors. We have the beauty of the country and we are close to town. It's ideal."

Kin and Nancy moved into their five-bedroom Bronte (Elevation B) home in September. Offering more than 3,000 square feet of well-designed living space, the home includes plenty of room for entertaining and comfortable living. "We were attracted to this design because of the winding staircase and the open-concept family room and kitchen," Nancy says. "Upstairs, there are large windows facing the back with views of the trees and a stream."

Since purchasing their home, Kin and Nancy have convinced some family and friends to become their neighbours, including one of their sons, his wife and four children, who live within walking distance. "It's nice knowing so many people in the community," Nancy says.

The couple has also been pleased with Heathwood's after-sales service.

"Heathwood has a good group of people who are pleasant and supportive. We like the slogan 'Home at Last', because that's how we feel here."
